Hi I'm Tracie Shippey of SHIPPEY PR

We are a bespoke PR and Communication agency based in Crawley Down.

Our portfolio of work spans many different areas including Public Relations, Marketing activity for our clients products and services, Copywriting of web content, newsletters and marketing literature, Feature writing; we contribute to many local and national magazines, newspapers and media outlets. We also provide our clients with a press release service, creating newsworthy stories for internal and external publication.

We offer a bespoke consultancy service to all, treating all of our clients as individuals and of equal importance regardless of their requirement.

A good referral for Shippey PR would be any company looking to evaluate how they communicate, asking themselves; What message do we give to our potential customers? Do we really reach the people who have a NEED for our products or services? What more could we be doing to generate business?

If you are asking these questions and/or would like to think about how effective your business is communicating both internally and externally, we'd be happy to help.
